DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(a) the invention was known or used by others in this country, or patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country, before the invention thereof by the applicant for a patent.

1. Claim 1 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by King (USPN 6,309,248). King discloses a circuit interrupting device (device 10 shown in fig. 1) comprises a housing (18), a phase conductive path and a neutral conductive path (a pair of conductors 34), each disposed at least partially within the housing between a line side and a load side, the phase conductive path terminating at a first connection (50) capable of conducting electricity to at least one load, a second connection (52) capable of conducting electricity to at least one load, a third connection (54 and 56) (see fig. 5) capably of conducting electricity to at least one user accessible load, the neutral conductive path terminating at a first connection (50) capable of conducting electricity to a source, a second connection (52) capable of providing a neutral connection to at least one load, a third connection (54 and 56) capably of conducting electricity to at least one user accessible load (see col. 4 and 5, lines 64-1), a circuit interrupting portion (GFCI device, see col. 8, lines 38-42) disposed within the housing and configured to cause electrical discontinuity in the phase and neutral paths between the line side and load side upon the occurrence of the predetermined condition, a reset portion (114, see col. 8, lines 43-46) disposed at least partially within the housing to cause reestablish electrical continuity in the phase and neutral paths and connecting to a lever (140) which is operated by insertion of a user plug (shown in fig. 8), and the circuit interrupting device further comprises a reset lockout portion that prevents reestablish electrical continuity in the phase and neutral paths if the circuit interrupting portion is non-operating (see col. 8, lines 48-51).

Conclusion

2. Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Danny Nguyen whose telephone number is (703)-305-5988. The examiner can normally be reached on Mon to Fri 8:00 AM to 4:30 PM.

If attempts to reach the examiner by telephone are unsuccessful, the examiner's supervisor, Brian Sircus can be reached on (703)-308-3119.
